

JEZEBEL: THE QUEEN OF EVIL

INTRODUCTION

The story of Jezebel's life effectively illustrates the utter ruin that comes from the pursuit of evil. Born into a family whose father was an idolatrous king, Jezebel was a princess completely corrupted with the vile works of his religion. Her husband Ahab . . . did more to provoke the LORD God of Israel to anger than all the kings of Israel that were before him (I Kings 16:33). Every mention of her name centers upon an evil deed or murderous plot. A ruthless killer, Jezebel truly was the Queen of Evil. She earned the title of the most notorious and despicable woman ever written about in the Bible.

Many life lessons we learn are through negative examples. As we study Jezebel's life, she portrays an example of what not to do, how not to behave, and whom we are not to worship. She was exceedingly competent, highly gifted, and a powerful person, but extremely wicked.

SECTION I – Jezebel and Ahab's Evil Practices

Asa was king of Judah for 31 years when Omri became king over Israel. Omri reigned twelve years: six years in Tirzah¹. He then bought a hill from Shemer for two talents of silver. He built a city on the hill, and called it Samaria, naming it after Shemer, the previous owner. Omri not only did evil in the eyes of the LORD, his behavior was worse than all the kings who were before him. He walked in all the ways of Jeroboam², the son of Nebat. He continued in idol worship and caused Israel to sin, thus provoking the LORD God of Israel to anger (I Kings 16:15-26).

The Zidonians were Baal worshippers. Baal was considered a god of nature and fertility. A crude and inhuman religion, Baal worship was known for its child-sacrifices. They also participated in animal sacrifices, ritualistic meals, and licentious³ dances leading to sexual orgies. Ahab did not walk in the ways of the Lord, and his marriage to Jezebel drove him toward greater evil.

¹ Tirzah: beautiful city of Canaan captured by Joshua; residence of the Kings of Israel.

² Jeroboam: king of Israel, who did evil by making two golden calves for the people to worship. This stopped the people from going to Jerusalem to worship God as the Lord had commanded (I Kings 12:21-33).

³ licentious: unbridled lust.

SECTION 2 – Elijah: A Man of God

God used the prophet⁵ Elijah⁶ who seemed to appear from nowhere. He played a vital part in delivering judgment to a king and queen, who not only provoked God to anger by worshiping Baal, but caused the people to sin as well. In I Kings 17:1, Elijah prophesized against Ahab . . . As the LORD God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to My Word. There was a twofold challenge in this message: first, he proclaimed his authority was from the living God of Israel, and secondly, he directly challenged the authority of their god Baal, the Phoenician storm god, whom they believed to be responsible for causing rain.

MEMORY VERSE

_____ (I Kings 18:21).

Jezebel was a wicked woman. She manipulated herself into a powerful position, taking authority over the King of Israel and the prophets of Baal. Her ultimate scheme was to take control of God's people, His prophets, and God Himself; only those who fear the LORD¹⁰ can stand up against such a wicked treacherous woman.

¹⁰ the fear of the LORD: to stand in awe of God; to hate evil (Psalms 33:8, Proverbs 8:13).
